City appoints permanent Chief Administrative Officer

Revelstoke, BC – Council and staff welcome Evan Parliament as the City’s new permanent Chief Administrative Officer (CAO). Since being appointed as CAO on an interim basis in August 2022, Mr. Parliament facilitated the transition of the new 2022-2026 Council members, provided guidance to the City’s senior leadership team, and embraced our growing community.

Mr. Parliament has over 30 years of municipal experience, and has a proven track record at negotiating partnerships, team building & leadership, community engagement, strategic planning, governance and staff mentoring. His energetic, progressive, municipal leadership style supports a service-oriented staff team that focuses on community first. He comes to us, most recently from Sicamous, BC but has also served in a number of British Columbia and Alberta municipalities. His personal interests are well suited to the active lifestyle opportunities offered here in Revelstoke; and above all, his love and appreciation for Revelstoke grows daily.

“So pleased to be invited to work with the new Council and the good folks of Revelstoke. My primary focus is for City Hall to match the vibrancy, the energy, and the positive culture that makes up this world class destination. I’m so impressed at the youthfulness and the variety of outdoor experiences that Revelstoke showcases. Local government is in the people business and all of City staff look forward to serving you to make Revelstoke the best it can be”, Evan Parliament.

During a Special Council Meeting on February 9, 2023, an employment agreement for Mr. Parliament was ratified. Council recognizes the value that his strategic guidance will afford Revelstoke as liaison between Council and staff and is eager to continue working with Mr. Parliament building all aspects of the organization.

“Council is very happy that Mr. Parliament has accepted our offer to continue on as our CAO. We are excited to be able to keep working with him and delighted that we can provide stability within our management team. In my opinion his years of experience and desire to assist Revelstoke in his capacity as CAO is outstanding. Staff are pleased that we can continue to attend to the needs of Revelstoke with Evan at the helm.” Mayor Sulz
